

Paper retraction: “Genetic Differences between Patients with Rheumatoid Arthritis” M. Cojocaru, B. Chiocos, Romanian Journal of Internal Medicine 2013; 51(2):89-91.

EDITORIAL BOARD OF THE ROMANIAN JOURNAL OF INTERNAL MEDICINE

The Editorial Board of the Romanian Journal of Internal Medicine retracted the review article of M. Cojocaru and B. Chicos “Genetic Differences between Patients with Rheumatoid Arthritis” [1] from the Romanian Journal of Internal Medicine after being informed that this review was actually duplicate publication as it had been previously published in the Romanian Journal of Rare Diseases [2]. Comparing these two papers revealed that in fact the review paper published in RJIM [1] was a duplicate paper and the second version submitted and therefore there was a scientific misconduct.

Correspondence to: Editorial Board of Romanian Journal of Internal Medicine editor@intmed.ro

REFERENCES

1. COJOCARU M., CHICOS B. Genetic differences between patients with rheumatoid arthritis. Romanian Journal of Internal Medicine 2013;51(2):89-91.
2. COJOCARU M., COJOCARU I.M., SILOSI I. Genetic differences between patients with rheumatoid arthritis. Romanian Journal of Rare Diseases 2011; 2: 22-5.

Received April 15, 2016