
EDITORIAL NOTE

DOI: 10.1515/seeur-2017-0001

Dear Readers,

It is our pleasure to present to you this edition of the SEEU Review, Volume 12, Issue 1. It is published in May of 2017.

This issue publishes and disseminates impressive contributions to the scholarship of numerous fields, from current affairs analysis to economic investigations, and from Balkan politics to pedagogical methodologies. The general focus of the articles is, in consonance with that of this journal, the social sciences. The contributing scholars range in age and academic title from aspiring researchers pursuing their PhDs to Full Professors. We are honored by their trust in our journal, and thank them for submitting their work for publication with us.

As always, the SEEU Review subjects all submissions to a double-blind editorial process, so that no official reader knows the name or identity of the submitting author, nor does the submitting author know the names or identities of the readers. We pursue this time-consuming process because we believe it to be essential to the editorial integrity of this publication.

In a time of predatory or simply fake academic journals, we aim to be particularly vigilant in guaranteeing the quality of our publication, the independence of our editorial board, the academic excellence of the papers we publish, and the integrity of this periodical and the University that it represents.

*Andrew Goodspeed,
Editor-in-Chief*