Editorial policy

Global Psychiatry publishes original and unpublished scientific articles, systematic reviews and meta-analyses in all areas of psychiatry from all over the globe.

Papers will be assessed by two expert reviewers and one editor. The editorial decision will be final. The editors and reviewers must have no conflicts of interest, and will respect the confidentiality of the content of the paper and its data.

We will not tolerate plagiarism, double-publication, citation manipulation, data falsification, or inappropriate author attribution.

The articles will be added to appropriate reference databases, i.e. Medline, Pubmed, etc. In order to sustain the production of our fully-refereed open access journal, each article accepted for publication in Global Psychiatry is subject to an Article Processing Charge of €800 (+VAT where applicable). This fee is used to cover the costs of professional typesetting, copyediting, online hosting, long-term preservation, distribution to libraries and content aggregators worldwide, and extensive promotion to potential readers. Information regarding payment of these charges will be provided following acceptance for publication. Inquiries concerning Article Processing Charges should be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief Globalpsychiatry@gmx.com

Review process
The reviewers will provide you with a numbered list of comments and proposal. Please address each point and indicate how and where you amended the paper in response.

Reviewer’s instructions
Please keep the paper and its content confidential and report ethical or other concerns to the editor.
Please provide a general recommendation on the value of this paper for publication to the editors.
Please let us know what you formally recommend: accept, minor revisions, major revisions, revision and re-review, or rejection.
You may want to comment on format, scientific and clinical relevance, actuality, style, clarity and coherence of presentation, originality of methods and results, and the quality of the data and the language.
Please provide a numbered list of comments, critiques, proposals and recommendations for the authors helping them to improve the paper, if possible. Sorting by subheadings, i.e. title, abstract, introduction, etc. may help.

The authors are expected to answer your comments and indicate the appropriate changes, point by point.

Please indicate if you would like to add short 200 word comment to the paper. This would be published with your name and affiliations below the paper.
