Paper entitled:

Author/s:

Corresponding author (if more than one author):

1. Open Access License

The author hereby assigns to the journal LOGI - Scientific Journal on Transport and Logistics the license in the above paper, throughout the world, in any form, for the full term of license, effective upon acceptance for publication.

The non-commercial use of the paper will be governed by the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs license as currently displayed on <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/>, except that sections 2 through 5 below will apply in this respect and prevail over all conflicting provisions of such license model. Without prejudice to the foregoing, the author hereby grants the Journal Owner the exclusive license for commercial use of the paper (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable) according to section 2 below, and sections 3 through 7 below, throughout the world, in any form, in any language, for the full term of copyright, effective upon acceptance for publication.

2. Author's Warranties

The author warrants that the paper is original, written by stated author/s, has not been published before and it will not be submitted anywhere else for publication prior to acceptance/rejection by LOGI - Scientific Journal on Transport and Logistics, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others, and that any necessary written permissions to quote from other sources have been obtained by the author/s.

3. User Rights

Authors retain the following rights:

- copyright, and other proprietary rights relating to the paper, such as patent rights,
- the right to use the substance of the paper in future own works, including lectures and books,
- the right to reproduce the paper for own purposes, provided the copies are not offered for sale,
- the right to self-archive the paper.

If the paper was prepared jointly with other authors, the signatory of this form warrants that he/she has been authorized by all co-authors to sign this license on their behalf, and agrees to inform his/her co-authors of the terms of this agreement.

4. Termination

This license can be terminated by the author or the Journal Owner upon three months' notice where the other party has materially breached this license and failed to remedy such breach within a month of being given the terminating party's notice requesting such breach to be remedied. No breach or violation of this agreement will cause this license granted in it to terminate automatically or affect the definition of Journal Owner. The author and the Journal Owner may agree to terminate this license at any time. This license cannot be terminated otherwise than in accordance with this section 4.

5. Royalties

This license entitles the author to no royalties or other fees. To such extent as legally permissible, the author waives his or her right to collect royalties relative to the paper in respect of any use of the paper by the Journal Owner.

6. Miscellaneous

The Journal Owner will publish the paper in the journal LOGI - Scientific Journal on Transport and Logistics, if the paper's editorial process is successfully completed and the Journal Owner has become obligated to have the paper published. The Journal Owner may adjust the paper to a style of punctuation, spelling, capitalization and use that it deems appropriate. The author acknowledges that the paper may be published so that it will be publicly accessible and such access will be free of charge for the readers. This agreement will be governed by the laws of England and Wales.

9. Scope of the Commercial License

The exclusive right and license granted under this agreement to the Journal Owner for commercial use is as follows:

- to prepare, reproduce, manufacture, publish, distribute, exhibit, advertise, promote, license and sub-license printed and electronic copies of the paper, through the Internet and other means of data transmission now known or later to be developed; the foregoing will include abstracts, bibliographic information, illustrations, pictures, indexes and subject headings and other proprietary materials contained in the paper,
- to exercise, license, and sub-license others to exercise subsidiary and other rights in the paper, including the right to photocopy, scan or reproduce copies thereof, to reproduce excerpts from the paper in other works, and to reproduce copies of the paper as part of compilations with other works, including collections of materials made for use in classes for instructional purposes, customized works, electronic databases, document delivery, and other information services, and publish, distribute, exhibit and license the same.

Where this agreement refers to a license granted to Journal Owner in this agreement as exclusive, the author commits not only to refrain from granting such license to a third party but also to refrain from exercising the right that is the subject of such license otherwise than by performing this agreement. The Journal Owner will be entitled to enforce in respect of third parties, to such extent as permitted by law, the rights licensed to it under this agreement. If the paper was written in the course of employment by the US or UK Government, and/or arises from NIH funding, please consult the Journal Owner for further instructions.
