

Editorial Policy

We encourage research librarians to list this journal among their library's electronic journal holdings. As well, it may be worth noting that this journal's open source publishing system is suitable for libraries to host for their faculty members to use with journals they are involved in editing.

Plagiarism is strictly prohibited. Any article found to have plagiarism will be excluded and author will be notified.

Interested in submitting to this journal? We recommend that you review the About the Journal page for the journal's section policies, as well as the Author Guidelines. Authors need to register with the journal prior to submitting or, if already registered, can simply log in and begin the five-step process.

Please note this is a Non Profit journal but needs to charge authors for article processing and service maintenance. This fee is only paid after the review and acceptance procedure is completed. However, the article submission is free of charge. This journal does not charge for submission. In order for a paper to be considered for publishing and in the review procedure, the authors are kindly requested to register their articles at <https://euser.org/journals/form>. The article processing, publishing and maintenance fee can be paid as soon as after the acceptance notification using one of the methods given by the invoice.

A waiver can be considered for students and for the authors from developing countries.
