

Editorial Policy

Submission to this journal proceeds totally on-line, and the author is guided step-wise through the procedure. To complete the submission successfully, the author is required to choose one of the Editors whose areas fit as closely as possible with the topic of the paper to handle the paper. All correspondence, including notification of the Editor's decision, requests for revision, and proofs takes place by e-mail.