

Instructions for Authors

Scientific articles includes research papers and review papers. The research paper presents the origin research findings that have not been published yet in the same or similar extant in other scientific/research (periodical) publication. Besides this, the findings must be the work of the author or the team, in which the author was a member. The review paper is based on the high-quality literature research. The paper summarizes scientific knowledge of the researched issue up to now and presents the original thoughts and approaches that bring new perspective on the researched issue. The scientific article is not an abstract or conclusion (summary), a note paper, an editorial material or revision. The topic of the paper must be in accordance with the journal specialization. The article that does not fulfil the stated instructions and/or the journal specialization is not accepted.

Papers are published in English language and are accepted only in electronic version MS Word (doc, docx). Papers are submitted in electronic version MS Word (doc, docx) in the open journal system (<https://journals.muni.cz/cjot/index>).

- A. The research paper has an obligatory structure, exactly written citation in the text and minimum of textual apparatus. The structure of the research paper is following: Title; Author(s); Address/contact; Abstract (extant 130–150 words) + Key words (maximum five); JEL Classification; Introduction; Theoretical basis; Methodology; Results; Discussion; Conclusion (extant 500–1000 words); References.
- B. The review papers have an obligatory structure and exactly written citation in the text. The structure of the review paper is following: Title; Author(s); Address/contact; Abstract (extant 130–150 words) + Key words (maximum five); JEL Classification; Introduction; Approaches to the researched issue; Results; Discussion; Conclusion (extant 500–1000 words); References.

The extant of the scientific article is 3500–5000 words. The note papers in the section Notes have maximum 3000 words. The information contribution is 1200-word long.

The reference list is written in alphabetic order, starting with the author's surname with accordance to APA.

- Hall, C. M., & Page, S. J. (2002). The Geography of Tourism and Recreation: Environment, Place and Space. London: Routledge.
- Kozak, M. (2001). Comparative assessment of tourist satisfaction with destinations across two nationalities. Tourism Management, 22(4), 391-401.
- Vystoupil, J. et al. (2007). Návrh nové rajonizace cestovního ruchu ČR (The Proposal of the New Tourism Regionalization in the Czech Republic). Brno: Masaryk University.
- Vystoupil, J., & Šauer, M. (2010). Regionální operační programy jako nástroj podpory cestovního ruchu v ČR (Regional operational programs as an instrument of tourism support in the Czech Republic). Regionální studie (Regional Studies), 4(1), 41-49.
- Zelenka, J. (2010). Metodika pro udržitelnost cestovního ruchu v národních parcích (Methodology of sustainable tourism in national parks). In J. Zelenka (Ed.), Dobrá praxe v udržitelnosti cestovního ruchu. Recenzovaný sborník 2. ročníku konference s mezinárodní účastí (Good practice in sustainable tourism. Peer-reviewed proceedings of 2nd annual conference with international participation) (pp. 41-49). Brno: Tribun EU.
- Ministry for Regional Development. (2007). Koncepce státní politiky cestovního ruchu v České republice na období 2007-2013 (The conception of state tourism policy in the Czech Republic for years 2007-2013). Prague: Ministry for Regional Development. Retrieved from

<<http://www.mmr.cz/CMSPages/GetFile.aspx?guid=9436a891-44cd-426a-88b9-373e4ce4900a>>

The form of citation in the text shows the following example: Šauer (2009) extends the knowledge of tourism policy presented by Hall and Page (2002). The regional case studies of tourism policy (Vystoupil & Šauer, 2010) reveal interesting findings.

Pictures, graphs, maps and photographs are in colour and must be delivered/sent in the electronic version (in case of scheme and graphs they must be in the editable vector form) separately and titled. The quality of photographs must be at least 300 dpi. The editorial office reserves the right to make a selection of the submitted photographs. All pictures, graphs, maps, photographs, schemes and tables (figures) must be labelled Fig. + number and provide with the Source.

It is highly recommended to use the electronic templates that are posted on the journal website www.czechjournaloftourism.cz section Authors. Articles and contributions without the obligatory layout will be automatically sent back for rewriting.

JEL classification is available on http://www.aeaweb.org/journal/jel_class_system.php. Choose maximum 3 categories.

All scientific articles (original research papers and review papers) are double-blind peer-reviewed. Authors are informed about the editorial board's decision.

Handing on the article authors agree with its publication in the journal and also declare that the article is an original paper and they have the copyright to it. Articles are not remunerated.