

Kairos. Journal of Philosophy & Science

Editorial Policy

Kairos. Journal of Philosophy & Science is an open access peer reviewed journal published by the Center for Philosophy of Science of the University of Lisbon (CFCUL) on a three-monthly basis (issues in March, July and November).

Following CFCUL's main objectives, Kairos aims to publish original and consistent research in the areas of Philosophy of Science and of Philosophy and Science. In that sense, it accepts philosophical papers motivated by scientific research as well as philosophically relevant scientific papers, from areas such as metaphysics, politics, ethics, aesthetics, logic, philosophy of language, philosophy of mind and cognition, philosophy of mathematics, philosophy of physics, and philosophy of biology.

1. Kairos only accepts original research papers not previously published in other journals, unless the paper is proven to be a genuine expansion of a previous work;

2. Kairos does not publish translations as research papers;

3. Kairos does not accept plagiarism, advocating the proper acknowledgement to other works. Furthermore, Kairos uses software in the peer-review process to screen plagiarism.

4. No changes to the paper can be made after proof reading is completed.

5. The authors retain the following rights:

i) copyright, and other proprietary rights relating to the article, such as patent rights;

ii) the right to use the substance of the article in future own works, including lectures and books;

iii) the right to reproduce the article for own purposes, provided the copies are not offered for sale; and iv) the right to self-archive the article.

6. The author may require to Kairos Editorial Board the permission to reprint his/her paper elsewhere, in the condition that it will be clearly stated that the work was originally published in Kairos.
